Intro. to WWW and Internet

CS112      Offered Fall, Spring and Summer
Northern Arizona University      Dept. of Elec. Engr. & Comp. Sci.

Course Description: Provides a broad introduction to the World-Wide Web and Internet-related software including:

• Email, HTML, Telnet, and FTP.
• Learn about E-commerce, security and privacy that affects daily life
• Tools and technologies to creatively participate in basic web development.
• Terrific web site supporting the textbook

Taught on-line via NAU Extended Campuses!
Fits your schedule and your needs 😊

Eligible for Science and Applied Science Liberal Studies credit

For More Information:
Contact Prof. Steven M. Jacobs
steven.jacobs (at) nau.edu

Build your own eye-popping Website

Use email, IM, Google more effectively

Learn about e-commerce and make money

Protect yourself against virus, spyware and more...

Sign Up on Louie!